MODEL UNITED NATIONS
2026

1ST - 3RD MAY, 2026

WHAT IS A MUN?

Model United Nations (MUN) is an academic endeavour that simulates various committees of the United Nations. It seeks to recreate the workings of the UN, functioning according to its procedures and regulations, with various committees that address specific issues, serving to facilitate debate and discussion on global issues.

Every participant is assigned a country or a portfolio, which they represent and is hence termed a delegate. The delegate then participates in diplomatic discussions and deliberations on committee-specific agendas, keeping in mind their own country's interests and policies.

Research and analysis are the key to winning the competition, as they decide every decision a delegate makes, and they determine the quality of a speech. The integration of debate with research makes it the perfect platform for students to build their knowledge and hone significant leadership skills.

ABOUT JUMUN

Jadavpur University Model United Nations offers a platform for students across universities and schools to construct a vision for a better tomorrow. It currently stands as one of the premier conferences of the country, offering a wide selection of unique committees chaired by the most skilled individuals. JUMUN began its illustrious journey in 2015 with its inaugural edition, graced by Mr Yuri Kolobanov, Consul General of the Russian Federation to India. Over the years, JUMUN has hosted a variety of diverse and unconventional committees, such as the Fifth World Conference on Women, the Seneca Falls Convention, the Asian Security and Cooperation Summit, the Intergovernmental Panel on Climate Change, and the Department for Exiting the European Union, across various editions. We have also undertaken a Civil Society Initiative since 2018, aimed at promoting education for underprivileged children, as applying insights from this platform to make a change in the real world happens to be a core tenet of our conference. As JUMUN celebrates its 12th edition, it remains committed to fostering meaningful dialogue, collaboration, and impactful diplomacy beyond committee rooms.

WHAT DOES JUMUN HAVE TO OFFER DELEGATES?

Model UN has long been a platform for individuals to expand their knowledge and hone their interpersonal skills as well as their ability to reason, articulate, and perform under pressure. JUMUN 26 offers a unique mix of specialised committees and a beginner-friendly environment wherein both beginners and experienced delegates can thrive. The curated mix of foundational and niche committees creates a perfect environment for beginners and experienced delegates alike. Committees like SPECPOL or CSW tackle widely debated issues and showcase the highest level of discourse under relatively familiar formats, representing an excellent opportunity for beginners to learn from the best from the get-go while guided by chairpersons with a wealth of experience and skill. For the experienced delegate, they make for a platform to duke it out with some of the most brilliant delegates in the country.

Our niche committees tackle issues no less vital but often ignored by popular discourse. These committees make for highly dynamic and unique experiences, and are an excellent test of deep research, ingenuity and improvisation under pressure. Delegates here are given more freedom in interpreting protocols and policies, and are encouraged to come up with novel approaches to solving problems on a level playing field.

WHAT DOES JUMUN HAVE TO OFFER DELEGATES?

A platform for excellent, engaging discourse and unparalleled exposure, JUMUN is a perfect testing ground for students interested in myriad future careers, including but not limited to careers in public policy or research in the humanities. Accolades in JUMUN could serve as an excellent addition to a resumé, a testament to a person's ability to research, articulate and perform under pressure. JUMUN is also an excellent forum for developing personal and professional relationships, as it brings together some of the most highly illustrious young individuals in their respective professional or academic spheres. In the spirit of competition, we have highly generous prizes for the best-performing delegates in each committee.

In JUMUN 2026, we seek to preserve the spirit of discourse, learning, and competition that distinguishes our esteemed conference, as we endeavour to make it bigger and better than ever before.

OFFLINE COMMITTEES:

UNGA SPECPOL

The Special Political and Decolonisation Committee is one of the six main committees of the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) and is also known as the Fourth Committee. It is responsible for a broad range of issues, including decolonisation, international cooperation in the peaceful uses of outer space, the effects of atomic radiation, assistance to Palestinian refugees, questions relating to information, peacekeeping operations, and special political missions. Although its resolutions are recommendatory in nature, they form the basis for international consensus and future treaties. As an inclusive forum comprising all 193 UN Member States, the Committee ensures that every country's voice is given a platform. Here at the UNGA-SPECPOL in JUMUN 2026, we seek nuanced solutions to complex problems that maintain geopolitical objectives while remaining steadfast to the greater goal of bettering the world for all of humanity.

ECOSOC

The Economic and Social Council is one of the 6 principal organs of the UN, which controls and coordinates the economic and social functions of the UN in achieving its developmental objectives, specifically through its specialised agencies. These developmental objectives include ensuring a higher standard of living, education, and healthcare, and fostering respect for and observance of human rights and fundamental freedoms, among others. As social and economic indicators continue to show wide disparities in income, infrastructure, and quality of life, the ECOSOC in JUMUN 2026 seeks versatile, actionable solutions to the problems that plague the modern world, particularly the developing world.

UNCSW

The Commission on the Status of Women is the main global intergovernmental body exclusively dedicated to the promotion of gender equality, the rights, and the empowerment of women. It is a functional commission of the Economic and Social Council and is instrumental in promoting women's and girls' rights and documenting the reality of their lives while shaping global standards on gender equality. In addition to being historically underrepresented, undervalued, and discriminated against, women's leadership and political engagement are frequently jeopardised on all levels, from local to intergovernmental, and this is exactly what CSW seeks to rectify. Here at the CSW in JUMUN 2026, we seek discourse that truly engages with the deeply entrenched roots of systemic misogyny and acknowledges the full extent of patriarchal oppression, for it is only then that concrete steps in combating the same can be implemented.

ISA

The International Seabed Authority is an autonomous international organisation established under the 1982 United Nations Convention on the Law of the Sea. It is the organisation through which State parties to UNCLOS organise and control all mineral resources-related activities in the area for the benefit of humankind as a whole. ISA thus has the mandate to protect the marine environment from harmful effects that may arise from deep-seabed related activities. The ISA is founded on the principle that the international seabed and its mineral resources constitute the "common heritage of mankind," so no state may claim sovereignty over them, and the benefits must be shared equitably among all.

At the ISA in JUMUN 2026, we seek delegates who preserve their portfolios' strategic goals but remain committed to actualising the ISA's original objective of ensuring the greater good of all nations through the mineral-based and other resources of the seabed.

AIPPM

While opposing political factions exist within the Indian democracy, it is collaboration and coordination that must ever be prioritised for the benefit of the nation. The All India Political Parties

Meet is a committee in JUMUN 2026 aimed precisely at achieving this objective. Representatives of political parties all over the country, whether national or regional, ruling or opposition, are given an equal voice in discussing legislation, public policy, and ensuring government accountability in a manner more flexible than the formal legislative bodies. This committee would be a test of how effectively delegates can engage with national issues constructively while also preserving their respective parties' political and strategic interests. At the AIPPM at JUMUN 2026, we seek delegates who balance astute political acumen with moral integrity towards serving the people, channelling a better version of their respective portfolios than their real-life counterparts.

INTERNATIONAL PRESS

Leading news organisations and media hubs are represented by the International Press. It meticulously examines the committee discussions and puts together the conference newsletter. Any Model United Nations should always include a segment on the international press (MUN).

Participants in IP will act as journalists and photographers for various news organisations. Journalists will have the opportunity to participate in other committees as a third party to report on their development, effectiveness, debate flow, alliance-building, and other aspects. All of the conference's moments are documented by photographers. In addition to being stunning, photographs that tell a story demand that their subjects be positioned in a way that does so even in the absence of captions. At the IP in JUMUN 2026, we seek journalists and photographers who don't just report but lend a critical fly-on-the-wall perspective on the actors and processes that shape policy.

HLC- SSC

South-South cooperation (SSC) refers to the technical cooperation among developing countries in the Global South. It is a tool used by the states, international organisations, academics, civil society, and the private sector to collaborate and share knowledge, skills, and successful initiatives in specific areas such as agricultural development, human rights, urbanisation, health, climate change, etc. The High-Level Committee on South-South Cooperation is the main policymaking body on SSC. It is a subsidiary body of the UN General Assembly that was originally comprised of representatives of all countries participating in the United Nations Development Programme (UNDP). The Committee monitors the implementation of the Buenos Aires Plan of Action, ensures sustained efforts to strengthen Technical Cooperation among Developing Countries (TCDC), promotes new policies and innovative approaches, reviews the effective use of financial resources without affecting existing programmes, and ensures coordination of all promotional and operational TCDC activities across the United Nations development system. The HLC - SSC in JUMUN 2026 seeks to exemplify and actualise collaborative progress among economically weaker nations so as to collectively insulate each other from their vulnerabilities and emerge more prosperous and developed as a whole.

ONLINE COMMITTEES:

UNODC

Despite long efforts to suppress and combat the same, criminal activity at the regional as well as the national or international level, including but not limited to manufacture, traffic, and consumption of illicit drugs, continues to show a troubling persistence in several parts of the world. Moreover, these problems have historically had a troubling tendency to be attributed to simplistic factors and have been dealt with by similar brute-force tactics. The United Nations Office on Drugs and Crime was set up in 1997 to combat these issues. The UNODC in JUMUN 2026 requires a nuanced understanding of the complex social, political, economic, and cultural realities that manifest in these problems and proposes solutions that account for their complex, layered root causes and afford protection for victims and at-risk individuals on all sides of the table.
